

During my internship at Paris Companies, I was able to take the information I learned from my classes and see it being practiced day in and day out. This helped me better understand how IT is integrated into a business and how it can make that business more efficient.