

Here at Zlto Media, I was tasked with handling a complex series of intricately-detailed projects directly related to the Voice Department commercial call records. Working in this environment gave me insight into the nuances of the telecommunications industry and bolstered my decision to pursue a career in this field.